PEARL CALLAHAN

Panelists will examine the impact of anti-trafficking policies on those engaged in diverse circumstances of the sex trade and commercial sex. Learn about sex workers' initiatives to address trafficking, and how you can support sex workers' engagement in policy making. Through open discussion about the needs and rights of survivors and sex workers, attendees will look for common ground in a human rights/labor framework that benefits all workers.

This event is sponsored by the Freedom Network USA, SWOP Bay Area, St. James Infirmary, and BAYSWAN as part of the 12th Annual Freedom Network Conference in San Francisco April 1-2. To register for the full conference, visit www.freedomnetworkusa.org.
